

Through the kindness of friends, The Mahoning Dispatch will make weekly visits to many new homes the coming year. There is still room on the list and we shall be glad to send the paper to any address you may send.

WASHINGTONVILLE

Bright, Breezy Paragraphs Telling The Happenings in the Village on Mahoning's Southern Border.

By Peter M. Herold.

The pottery at Minerva has shut down. Dirt roads are still muddy in many places, while paved roads are dusty. That was a good original poem on the first page of last week's Dispatch. The authorities at East Liverpool have arrested a gang of sports there for dynamiting fish.

Owing to the home and foreign demand for spring wheat, the farmers are preparing to drill many acres of it this spring.

It is about time for the Washingtonville gun club to organize for the season of 1915, and contest for the silver trophy.

The past week the weather has been favorable to those digging asparagus and horseradish. This is also the month for trimming grape vines and rose bushes.

The island correspondent continues to dish out a lot of good stuff for Dispatch readers in this locality, and we would like to "hear" from Confederate Corners often.

The Ohio Patriot sees a modern garden of Eden filled with choice apples on the hills between Lisbon and East Liverpool. Hope it will not be an "Adam's Eden."

During the hunting season just closed 375 beaver and 110 deer were killed in Pennsylvania. No wonder New Yorkers refer to anything west of Coney Island as "the wild and woolly west."

Mrs. Abner Phillips died last Saturday at her home south of Leetonia, aged 80. Her husband died three weeks ago. Burial was held Tuesday and burial was made in the Leetonia cemetery.

The Carrollton Rubber Co. received a wireless message last Thursday from Dover, England, stating that a ship load of crude rubber had been sent in the British channel that day by German submarines.

The American public, after studying the lesson of experience, seems to have concluded that it is better to travel a little slower and get there than to go at the rate of 80 miles an hour and not get there at all.

Fanny Crawford, noted author of religious hymns, is dead at the age of 95. Of the several thousand hymns of which she is the author, two of the best known are "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Rescue the Perishing."

Carrollton's new $55,000 school building will be dedicated this Saturday, March 5 and 6. Speeches will be made by Dean Henry C. Williams and Hon. S. A. Harbort. The latter delivered an address in the Washingtonville school auditorium last fall.

Some scribbles are relating the arrival of the early robins this spring, when in fact the robins and blue jays were here all winter, and nearly all the migratory birds did not think it worth while to change places during the past winter months.

E. L. Henderson, owner of one of the Carrollton potteries, has sold the Columbiana Rubber plant to the Mansfield Rubber Co. who will enlarge the plant. A new company will be incorporated under the name of The Columbiana Fire & Tube Co.

Instead of having an expensive automobile department at Columbus spending money, it is proposed to have county treasurers collect auto license just as they do other taxes. This is good sense. This surplus money under the new plan is to come back to the county and go into the road fund. More good sense.

The new agricultural bill before Ohio's legislature is said to have omitted the restrictions that are in the old law protecting the farmers from deficient or fraudulent fertilizers. If this goes through it will be for the reason that some corrupt influence is brought to bear upon lawmakers by tricky manufacturers of fertilizers.

Relatives at Canton received word last week that Michael Kraft, Canton man, who went to Germany for a visit at his birthplace several months ago, had been drafted as a member of the fatherland's forces and had been killed in battle. After the war time two Frenchmen walked more than 1,000 miles through Canada to sail from New York to join the allies. This might be said to be hunting trouble.

Pleasant Hill school house in Leo township, Carroll county, was entirely consumed by fire last Sunday night. Frog Hollow school had been abandoned for want of pupils, so the school house was moved some week to the site of the burned one on Pleasant Hill, at a cost of $3, and school was reopened on Pleasant Hill last week. Some of the children registered a kick at Columbus because blue prints were lacking.

Last Sunday I partook of an old-fashioned birthday dinner. The menu consisted of pot roast beef and cabbage with horseradish dressing, sweet potatoes, baked buckwheat cakes with brown butter and maple syrup, corn pone, pie, cake and other dainty dishes fit to set before the president and his cabinet. In abundance it reminded me of the Roller, Calvin and Bates family reunions consolidated. My only regret was that I lacked the capacity to eat it all.

That it looks as if the Scriptures are being fulfilled and the end of the world is approaching was the statement of Cardinal Gibbons last week Thursday. The prelate during the general discussion of the war said: "The news coming from Europe is terrible. That awes me. It is beyond our realization. We cannot grasp its magnitude or what it means. Does it not look like the Scriptures are being fulfilled: 'Nation shall rise against nation and there shall be sorrow throughout the world, which will be a sign that the end is near.'"

The Card & Prosser clay works near Lisbon have resumed operations after a short shut-down.

The Minerva high school is publishing a daily paper in the interests of their proposed new school building. They expect to make a strenuous campaign for a new building.

Crescenon Zeigler, little son of Mrs. Cora Zeigler of Leetonia, who had been ill for some time, was out for the first time Saturday. He secured a pair of roller skates from some of the children, with whom he was playing, and after skating awhile fell and sustained a fracture of the right ankle.

Mike Cheronaki, a foreign laborer at the Carrollton brick plant, came home from Canton last Saturday with a quart of Tom Moore in one pocket and a pound of Limburger cheese in another pocket. On the way from the station he was met by the health officer who had the foreigner taken into an old stable and fumigated for the foot and mouth disease. While this was being done Mike took the cheese from his pocket and commenced eating it, and the H. O. instinctively made good his escape together with his assistants. Seeing his way clear, Mike broke out of the stable and hastened to the brick yard, where he finished the cheese and the wet goods.

The health officer at Washingtonville may be interested in knowing that Dr. W. B. Winters, superintendent of the Canton district, conducted quarterly meeting and Holy communion services in the Carrollton M. E. Church Sunday night. Love feast was conducted at 6 p. m. and preaching commenced at 7 o'clock, preceded by a pipe organ duet, playing "Nearer My God to Thee." The sermon by Dr. Winters was upon the Life and Character of Abraham Lincoln, using the First Psalm as his text. The speaker was at his best, and with many illustrations found in any of the biographies of the martyred president. Notwithstanding the other six churches held services at the same hour, the M. E. church was packed and 500 communicants knelt at the altar.
